2022 CORPORATE SPONSORSHIP PROGRAM

BACK TO IN-PERSON!

WHY IS DEVELOPMENT AND CITY BUILDING SO BOUYANT ACROSS CANADA?
HOW IS HOUSING AFFORDABILITY GOING TO BE IMPACTED?

THE ONGOING TRENDS IN RESIDENTIAL AND COMMERCIAL LAND & DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITY: WHERE ARE THE IDEAL OPPORTUNITIES? IS INNOVATION CONTRIBUTING TO YIELD GROWTH?

We're back, live! After two years of virtual events, we are ready and poised to bring the Land and Development Conference to life after 24 months. The 19th annual Land & Development Conference will provide an insightful examination of the reshaping our cities, and what the implications of these trends are for real estate investment and growth strategies going forward. Owners, developers, investors, lenders, brokers, architects, planners, lawyers and municipal officials will all contribute to the conversations.

Strong market fundamentals, rapid price increases in residential real estate and corporate growth strategies are supporting robust development and redevelopment activity in industrial, purpose-built rental, condominiums and other forms of housing. This is the case across Canada, from gateway cities to mid-market and secondary centres as well.

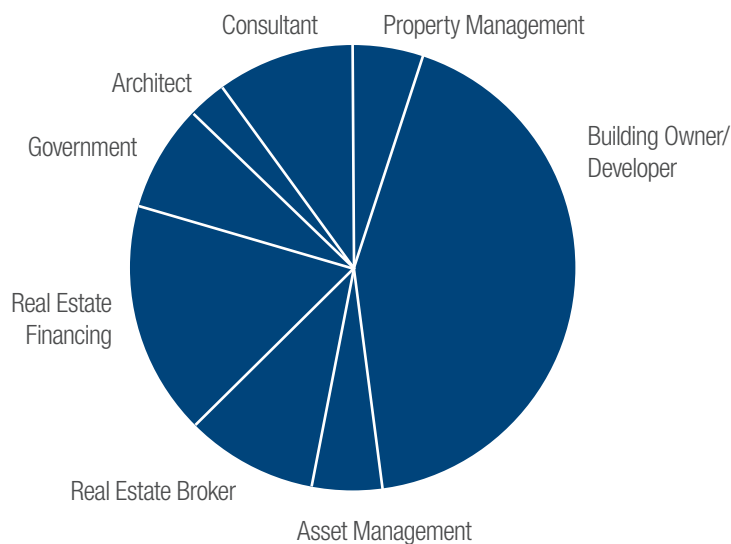

What are the major characteristics of projects that are taking advantage of current market opportunities? Are governments willing to participate as partners and facilitators in the development process? Which policies are helping/hindering the process of developing affordable housing? What are the key issues and constraints that developers need to address in order to launch potential projects? With net zero energy being a goal for many investors, developers and different levels of government, how can developments achieve this target and still show positive cash flow growth? To what extent has the pandemic affected technology being integrated into current projects? Has the pandemic created a form of obsolescence e.g. parking needs, elevators, washroom and hallway congestion, tolerance for density, high-rise vs. low-rise, open plan layouts? Will decarbonization do the same for older assets, construction materials and technology? What changes can we expect in future development projects (by asset type and geography)?

The 2022 program will examine the aforementioned fundamentals and dynamics, how they are affecting land acquisition and development in Canadian cities, and where new construction pro formas and values are heading.

The Land & Development Conference has been organized by Informa Connect, the producers of the Real Estate Forums, in conjunction with a steering committee of developers, owners, lenders, brokers, and their intermediaries.

Please join us as we share insightful keynote presentations, interviews and panel sessions on local, national and global residential and commercial development activity.
