The Impact of Digital Transformation on Integrated Reporting

15:30 - 16:30
Stream A

CENTRAL EUROPEAN TIME

Demand for reliable sustainability performance information by governments, regulators and investors has increased markedly in recent years. The EU, long seen as a global leader in this area, is working to develop new taxonomies for non-financial information which will enable robust reporting of meaningful ESG data. The success of this initiative is underpinned by the digital transformation of reporting.

Join this workshop to discover and discuss:

- The business case for the digital transformation of integrated reporting which would enable non-financial information to be provided in a digital, computer-readable format
- The possible connection with the requirements of the European Single Electronic Format (ESEF)
- How companies in the EU can prepare for the possible impact of the new standards

Participants

Moderator: Liv Watson - Senior Director, Strategic Customer Initiatives, Workiva

Jane Diplock AO - Board Director, Singapore Exchange Ltd.

Susanne Stormer - Chief Sustainability Advisor, Vice President, Novo Nordisk

Marco Masip - Head of ESG Investors, Telefonica

Country Spotlight: Italy

15:30 - 16:30
Stream B

CENTRAL EUROPEAN TIME

Italy is a G-7 and G-20 country and has a long-standing tradition in accounting and reporting, being the place where double-entry bookkeeping was invented. However, in many respects the Italian non-financial and integrated reporting practices are relatively little known internationally. This Session aims to illustrate the advanced level of the Italian non-financial regulation and integrated accountability, illustrating some of the most cutting-edge experiences and achievements in an Integrated Thinking-Reporting and Sustainable Value Creation perspective.

The session is organised by the O.I.B.R (Organismo Italiano di Business Reporting – Italian Foundation for Business Reporting) that represents a public interest and authoritative voice of many Italian stakeholders in this field.

Participants

Moderator: Prof. Dr. Stefano Zambon - Secretary General, O.I.B.R. Foundation, and Full Professor of Accounting and Business Economics, University of Ferrara

Anna Genovese - Commissioner, CONSOB (Italian Stock Exchange Regulator)
